Repatriation of Rohingyas needed for stability in SE Asia: Bangla for eign minister

Bangladesh Foreign Minister A K Abdul Momen Saturday repatriation of displaced nationals Mvanmar sheltering in his country is necessary for security and stability in Southeast Asia.

Bangladesh is currently hosting more than 1.1 million "forcibly displaced Myanmar nationals" (of Rohingya ethnicity) in Cox's Bazar and they want to return to their country, the minister said in his address at the inaugural session of the Natural Allies in Development and Interdependence (NADI) conclave in Assam's

"Since repatriation has not started, the displaced persons are frustrated. Many may get involved in criminal activities such as drug and human trafficking, violence and these areas may become pockets of extremism and radicalism, leading to uncertainty and region," Momen said.

"Their repatriation must be done at the earliest and I solicit the help of our neighbouring countries to work together to maintain security and stability in the region," he added.

Bangladesh is providing them with food and shelter on humanitarian grounds but this is a temporary measure and most of the displaced persons want to return to their country, he added. "This has posed a threat to the on-going development trajectory in Bangladesh ... for a stable region, all countries should act responsibly so that regional stability is not hampered, Momen said.

Countries in the region should come forward in resolving this issue, keeping in mind that development of any region is interdependent, he added. Referring to Indo-Bangla relations, Momen said that both the countries have a "rock-solid relation" culture, language and shared sacrifice, just as much they are connected by shared waters, the fifthlongest border in the world and kinship. "Over the years, the relationship has transformative changes reaching new heights and the existing friendship between the people are a mark of trust and mutual respect. The emotional bonds stemming the invaluable contribution of the government and the people of India in the Liberation War of Bangladesh remain a dominant factor in the relationship between the two countries", he said. Later on the sidelines of the conclave, the foreign minister, in reply to questions on Bangladesh's relations with Beijing, said "we are not moving towards China".
